

SO SAID LOVE.

I
With a crust he'd be content—
So said Love;
With a rose he'd pay the rent—
So said Love;
But the crust was—oh, so thin!
Winter called the roses in.

II.
Wherefore, Love likes not the crust—
So said Love.
Roses yield not golden dust—
So said Love.
Blame not Love for discontent,
Roses would not pay the rent!

AN INVITATION TO WOMEN.

The Lydia E. No letter or testimonial has ever been made public without the written wish or consent of the writer. No confidence has ever been violated, and never in their history have they sold or disposed of any of their letters from women. It is for these reasons that thousands of suffering American women every year feel free to write Mrs. Pinkham for her valuable advice, which is always given free of charge.

THE GOOD WORK GOES ON

Get in the habit of coming daily to the big sale, so you'll not miss any of its rare bargains, for it's impossible to advertise them all, as they arise almost hourly. Goods with deep price cuts sell down to a fraction of the original quantity, and lower still goes the price to clean out the remainder.

Dress Goods, Embroidery and Lace remnants accumulate constantly, and are marked at figures that bear no relation to even their former low price. If one price, though it's less than cost, isn't moving a certain line, it's marked lower.

We want cash instead of merchandise now. We want a clean stock. We want to make a record during this sale that will interest you in our future sales, and we are doing it—by not sacrificing quality yet giving you prices that wouldn't cover the COST of inferior goods. Come in and see.

A few remarks are not out of place in regard to the thoughtless persons who like to stand on street crossings and converse fluently and at great length with friends.

People of this sort are a nuisance, not only to pedestrians, but to the people who use the streets for other purposes.

Street crossings, as their names imply, are made for people to cross the streets on. They were never intended as a proper place in which to indulge in impromptu afternoon teas.

At the Prescott School in Charlestown, Mass., a class was made up of twenty puny children who were backward in their studies; the kind of underweight children who are no good at baseball and are likely later to develop consumption. In one month they gained an average of four pounds in weight and improved greatly in their studies.

What seems so marvellous was no miracle. They were simply taught out of doors. In the middle of each session each child had a cup of hot malted milk. So easy as that!

There are schools in New York—big, fine, new schools—that have the prison smell all winter and spring for lack of ventilation. It would be a blessing to puny children in such schools to be taught out of doors. Meanwhile why not let air into the schools themselves?

The schools must teach the homes if New York is to conquer the White Death.

THE San Francisco Chronicle has the right idea on the protective policy. It says: "The policy of protection must embrace all American interests worthy of protection or we shall go promptly to as near a Free Trade basis as the demand for revenue will permit. If any interest is not willing to aid in protecting other interests it is unworthy of protection for itself."

IN a recent speech, Senator McCUMBER of North Dakota said: "I sometimes think that the American people have got to learn a fearful lesson about every fifteen years in order to bring them back to safe economic principles." So it would seem. Too many people are afflicted with short memories.

THE other day Senator BACON exclaimed, during a heated speech on the Tariff, "dum fervet opus." The Americus Times-Recorder says: "While we don't approve of profanity as a general thing, we can readily appreciate how the Senator got worked up to this pitch."

SENATOR BAILEY made a vigorous and sensational speech for Free Trade, and then cast one vigorous and sensational vote for a Tariff on iron ore. Yet there are men who wonder the Democratic party does not grow.—Ashland Independent.

NATURE'S WARNING.

Maysville People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously. But nature always warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—If there are settlements and sediment. Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills. To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes. Doan's have done great work in this locality. James W. Cottingham, East Second street, Vanceburg, Ky., says:

"About two years ago my back became lame and I had almost constant pain across my loins. It was all I could do to drag one foot after another and I was actually too weak to work. The kidney secretions were scanty and I had a difficulty in passing them. I was laid up at one time for a month and could not leave the house. When Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, I procured a box and began their use. My kidneys were soon restored to their normal condition, I became strong and have had no trouble since. It gives me the greatest pleasure to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other persons suffering from kidney complaint."

July 15th—"Hell, and Who is There."
July 16th—"Heaven and Who is There."
July 18th, Sunday morning—"Looking Unto Jesus."
Evening 8 o'clock—"The Depth of God's Riches."

July 21st—"Dancing a Great Evil."
July 22nd—"A Fixed Heart."
July 23rd—"I Must Feed the Flock."

Both white and colored are cordially invited to attend these services.
REV. J. F. DRANE, D. D., Pastor.
ROBERT ROBINSON, Clerk.

Mr. L. H. Tipton left Monday afternoon for Nicholasville to attend the District Grand Lodge of the Grand United Order of Oddfellows, which convened there Tuesday for a three days' session.

The item in yesterday's LEDGER in which Mr. John Gillespie's name figured placed that gentleman in rather an unenviable light, as he is not in the habit of engaging in broils, the affair of Saturday night being forced upon him and he acted in defense of his own person and was not in the least to blame for the unfortunate affair.

Only a few days ago THE LEDGER mentioned the death of one of Mr. and Mrs. Thad. Bullock's infant twins, and on yesterday the home was again saddened by the death of the other. The funeral took place this morning, interment being in Olivet Cemetery.

A NOBLE CHARITY

Urgent Appeal to Help the Helpless Children of Kentucky

Mr. C. W. Dick of Lexington, District Superintendent of the Kentucky Children's Home Society, is in this city looking after the financial interests of that institution. This Society conducts its work along the broadest lines, operating in a field outside the Churches and Lodges, but not in conflict with the great work done by them; indeed, the Churches and Lodges are among the strongest and most enthusiastic supporters of it.

The Kentucky Children's Home Society is non-sectarian, non-political and non-social, answering promptly the appeal of any child for help.

When a child is accepted it is taken at once to the Receiving Home at Louisville, where it is kept until a place is found for it in a private home.

More than fifty children have been taken from this county.

The Society retains legal control of its wards until they reach their majority.

As a rule these children come from an environment that would insure their being criminals, were it not for the kindly ministry of this noble charity.

The agents of the Society are in the field at work all the time. It employs nearly forty people. The funds necessary to carry on this great work come from various sources—from Legislative appropriation, Fiscal Courts, District Schools, Sunday-schools, Churches and private subscriptions.

Mr. Dick tells us that our people have responded grandly to his appeals. He has nothing but praise for them, but quite a number of business and professional citizens have not contributed and the agent hopes to secure their co-operation before he leaves town.

THE PUBLIC LEDGER gives its indorsement to the cause and hopes that our people will make it unanimous.

The venerable Mrs. William Hunter is quite feeble at her home in the county.

Mr. Basil D. Owens is very feeble and confined to his bed.

Old Custom Under the Ban.

The custom of rewarding success on the dramatic stage with calls before the curtain has long been a thing of the past in some of the European theaters, says a Frankfort paper, and this has caused much heartache among those footlight heroes and heroines to whom it was a joy and a delight. This ancient mark of appreciation was a recompense for many tribulations, and in the houses where the rules now preclude it one great incentive to best effort is missing. At the Lessing theater in Berlin the actor now has a fellow sufferer because of restrictive rules as to the popular author. Formerly, when a new play was put on for the first time and well received, the author would be called before the curtain between the acts, and these calls were frequently prolonged. The new rule forbids this, and the audience may cry "Author" ever so vigorously, but he dare not show himself until the final curtain has fallen.

Need for More Playgrounds.

Twelve vacant lots have been secured by a number of New York women for playgrounds in the upper West side of the city, the Riverside branch of the New York Municipal league being the petitioning party to the city aldermen. Mrs. Clarence Burns is also asking for the playground in the name of the Little Mothers' Aid society. Mrs. Burns is a well-known clubwoman. It is reported that most of the arrests among the children of New York are for playing on the streets or in forbidden places.

Praises American Woman.

Mlle. Claire Ducreux, traveler, lecturer and writer, in a talk recently before a branch of the Alliance Francaise, said that the American woman, with her type yet unformed, is one of the greatest factors in the new civilization that America is giving the world, and upon her appreciation of her opportunities as an independent factor and as a helper of man depends the strength and weakness of that civilization.

While other forms of Artificial Lighting have been content to twitter with bird-like repetition "cheap, cheap, cheap," Electric Light has been loudly singing the praises of its sun-like glow and whiteness. Stamped on the public mind as the "Light of Quality," with the advent of the Tungsten Lamp it now challenges comparison of efficiency and cost. : : : : :
